

NOTICE SAFETY RECALL

The Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and Galanz have announced a voluntary recall of certain Galanz 7.6 cu. ft. retro-style refrigerators due to a risk of serious injury or death from fire or burn hazards. As the press release issued by the CPSC states, “CPSC is aware of 34 reports of fire involving the refrigerators, one of which resulted in a fatality according to the local fire department report.” <https://www.cpsc.gov/Recalls/2026/Galanz-Americas-Recalls-Retro-Refrigerators-Due-to-Risk-of-Serious-Injury-or-Death-from-Fire-and-Burn-Hazards-One-Death-Reported>

The recall covers units of the Galanz 7.6 cu. ft. retro-style refrigerator with one of the following model numbers that were manufactured in 2019 or 2020 (and not units manufactured in other years):

- BCD-215V-62H
- GLR76TRDER

Only refrigerators with date codes ranging from December 2018 through December 2020 and with one of the above model numbers are included in this recall. To determine whether the unit you purchased is subject to the recall, you should locate the “Galanz Household refrigerator” label in the upper left corner on the back of the unit. If this label has one of the above model numbers after “Model No.” and has after “Date Code” a number in YYYYMM format ranging from 201812 through 202012, then the unit is covered by the recall.

IMPORTANT: If you determine the unit you purchased is covered by the recall, you should promptly unplug and stop using the unit until you obtain the free in-home repair by a qualified technician that is being offered by Galanz.

To schedule the repair at no cost to you, you can contact Galanz in one of the following ways:
